General School Updates

5-8th Grade Spelling Bee Results

After being delayed a couple of times due to some snow days off of school, our 5-8th grade annual school Spelling Bee was held on Monday, February 4th. Eli Stoll (6th Grade) finished as our school champion with Kathy McLane (8th Grade) coming in second, and Anthony Nicolai (7th Grade) finishing third. Congratulations to all 3! Eli Stoll will be moving on to compete in the regional Spelling Bee on Tuesday, February 19th. We wish him God's blessings as he represents us!

Pennies for Patients - Month of February

Our Pennies for Patients drive to help children suffering from Leukemia will continue all through the month of February. A calendar of various fun events and donation days has been handed out at school to all students in grades K-8. Please continue to refer to this calendar throughout the month to take part in helping our school raise funds to help out these children in need. What a great way to reflect the love of Jesus to others by helping them out in this small way!

K-2 Classroom Updates

The K-2 classroom has had lots of fun this week learning and growing together. In math, we are beginning a unit on measurement. Kindergartners started studying vowels and made their vowel shield. First graders have become word builders and second graders are digging deep into their study on vowel teams and 3-letter blends. In science, we started a unit on forces and in writing, we finished up our unit on how-to. If you want to know how to build a snowman, draw a battleship, or make a sandwich, we have you covered!

We are also having lots of fun learning from Miss Cody as she started teaching language and phy ed this week. Next week, she will pick up all the phonics groups and start teaching one of our reading groups.

We are also getting closer to the 100th day of school!

3-5 Classroom Updates

The third, fourth, and fifth graders are the only class that has not yet had a class sledding day! Five school days have been canceled due to winter weather, but still we've had no opportunity to sled together. We hope we can this coming Monday!

Meanwhile, we continue to work on our awesome science project. The results were surprising. Our research and testing is done, and we are now working on our display board, as well as a power point presentation to accompany the board. We take turns editing photos, experimenting with designs, and finding out which functions we can perform on the SMART board as well as which ones have to be done on the laptop. We are all getting better at teamwork through this project.

We have made huge improvements in writing sentences and paragraphs. The third grade is doing more and more work in cursive. Math has new challenges every day, but we are learning to be better mathematical thinkers.

6-8 Classroom Updates

Students from our class enjoyed participating in both the Match Counts event at Minnesota State University last week and the school Spelling Bee this week.

We are nearing the completion of the first draft of our short stories that we are writing in English class. Our goal is to eventually publish and have books printed of our writing complete with our own artwork. Some of the students have really been getting into their stories and are already at 10 typed pages or more of writing! We look forward to seeing the finished books in a few weeks.

We enjoyed another unexpected break from school this week due to snowy and cold weather. Maybe next week will finally be a full, uninterrupted week of school? We'll see what God has in store!
