General School Updates

Easter Break (April 18-23)

Easter break from school is right around the corner! This year we have off Thursday, April 18th through Tuesday, April 23rd. School will resume on Wednesday, April 24th. We pray everyone is able to enjoy some time relaxing time with family and friends over the Easter holiday. Please join us for worship! Jesus is Risen!

Roof Work at Church and School (Ongoing Project)

Over the next couple of weeks the flat roof of our church and school facility will be replaced. Church and school events will be able to safely go on as normal while the work is completed, but there may be some occasional noise and heavy equipment around the campus outside and in the parking lot. God willing, everything will be completed as anticipated over the course of about two weeks.

End of the Year Schedule

Though we have some time before the end of the year yet, we wanted to inform families of some differences from prior years for our end of the year schedule. Wednesday, May 29th at 6:30 P.M. will be our annual Spring Program for preschool through 8th grade. Each classroom is preparing some songs and entertainment to perform that evening. Awards from various activities during the school year will also be handed out to students that evening. Thursday, May 30th will be a half day and our final day of school. We will close the last day with a chapel service at 11:30 A.M. The graduation service for preschool and 8th grade will then be held at 6:30 P.M. All students will be singing in the graduation service. Please make plans to attend both of these end of the year events!

Little Lambs Preschool Updates

This week we worked on left and right. Next week we will be practicing table setting for our math. We also had fun with our Easter crafts and special Bible story crafts.

K-2 Classroom Updates

The K-2 classroom had a busy week, even with the snow day! We have loved being able to write teaching books about our favorite topics and are studying published authors to learn what they do to make our books even better. We also loved singing our song in church on Wednesday during the Lenten service with those that could of joined us. Next week, 2nd grade will finish up their units on 3-digit addition and we will also dig deeper into US history during our thematic time. We are also looking forward to warmer weather next week and hopefully the end of snow pants and boots, once and for all!

3-5 Classroom Updates

Holy Week begins on Sunday. We have been learning about Jesus' suffering and death for several weeks in our morning Word of God study. This week in our afternoon devotions, we also learned more about Jesus riding into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday. On Wednesday, Pastor Kelly visited our class and reminded us how Pilate and the Jews wanted to throw Jesus away like just so much garbage. Pastor Kelly encouraged us to fight our sinful nature, that sometimes wants to do the same thing.

Our writing skills are coming together as we work on the last few writing projects for the year. Two of our fourth graders, Courtney Domras and Karlijn Spangenberg, received honorable mention from the local Kiwanis Club for their "If I Had $100" essays. Courtney wrote about St. Jude's Research Hospital, and Karlijn wrote about "Forever Homes."

Third and fourth graders are finished studying the regions of the United States. We will start a new unit on the U. S. territories. Grade 5 is studying minerals in science class. The last chance to earn a slice of Kwik Trip pizza by completing the reading challenge is this month.

A week ago we were battling spring fever. Now we are battling cabin fever. A snow day is nice, but everyone is ready to get back to the nicer weather we were enjoying so much.

6-8 Classroom Updates

The weather has been strange this school year! We had yet another weather-shortened week this week with school off on Wednesday. The students enjoyed the unexpected day off, but all are ready to be done with the snow and snow gear! We hope for a return of warmer weather soon.

In writing class we are beginning our research report project. All of the students have chosen their topics. We now are beginning to look for resources to learn more about the topics we chose. We will be heading to the library on Monday to find some books. The students have also been asked to find 2 websites that are reputable sources that they can use to research their topic. We look forward to learning more about some topics that interest us!
